Kennedy Warning Unmistakable Following MIG Attack on Boat

Editor's Note: Today is Washington's birthday and the Father of Our Country has lost little popularity with children through the years, according to Mary Ellen Wolfe, of the Dayton (Ohio) Herald Reporter. Her column follows.

After 231 years, George Washington is still a hero in the eyes of today's small fry, but their candid way of telling about George Washington and his legend would make another best seller "First Family" record.

This 1963 concept of George Washington consists of excerpts pieced together from essays written by students at Beaver Creek's Fairbrook School.

In Virginia in 1732 on Feb. 22, a boy named George Washington was born. As he grew older, he had a birthday." (Diana Reigley, 4th grade).

"When he was a boy, he always told the truth. Well, almost always." (Randolph Ison, 5th grade).

"When his father asked who cut down the cherry tree, he said 'I cannot tell a lie. I did it with my trusty hatchet'." (Robert Dover, 1st grade).

"George Washington had a wealthy family. When he grew up, he got married to a wealthy widow named Mary Ball." (Tim Minch, 3rd grade).

"When he was a general in the war, he often paid his men himself because there wasn't any money in the treasury. At Valley Forge that horrible winter, he went to this lady's house to see if they could bed down in her yard. The lady said yes and then she asked him to come in and go to bed, but he said not until my men are comfortable." (Don Sagraves, 6th grade).

"I know to myself that he is the greatest man I ever read about. George Washington was a man who loved his country and gave everything for it. He was the man who couldn't give up until he couldn't fight any more." (Roy Finley, 5th grade).

"Today as we see Old Glory wave proudly over our ship at sea and our nation's cities we can give credit to Gen. Washington who cared to sketch a flag, form a committee, and have it made while the 13 colonies were still British subjects." (Penny Rice, 6th grade).

"He died on Dec. 14, 1799 and was buried at Mount Vernon, which had been his home for many years. Washington's picture is on your quarter." (Mike Ozias, 4th grade).

Evacuate Town When Chemical Catches Afire

NORPHLET, Ark. (P) — This south Arkansas town of 700 was evacuated today while firemen put out a fire that started from a train truck collision and threatened to blow up a box car of ammonium nitrate.

The fire was out and the danger was reported over shortly before 10 a.m. The Missouri Pacific train collided with a gasoline truck at 5:37 a.m. at an intersection in Norphlet's business district. The truck driver and two trainmen were slightly injured.

The engine and 12 cars derailed. Flames licked the box car loaded with the chemical.

Yellow smoke streamed from the ammonium nitrate car and railroad officials said the granular chemical was melting. Finally the bottom burned out of the box car and the load of nitrate fell on the tracks.

Shrimpers Tell About Incident

KEY WEST, Fla. (P) — The disabled shrimp boat Ala, center of an international incident Wednesday when she was attacked on the high seas by Soviet-built MIG planes, reached American waters today.

Its captain, Paris Jackson, said he's ready to take the Ala to sea again as soon as she's repaired.

The vessel was dead in the water with engine failure and was leaking badly when the MIGs appeared and fired into the sea near the Ala. Jackson and his mate were taken off by the Coast Guard with their ship following under Navy tow.

The two had thought help was coming when they glimpsed the first MIG.

Open Fire Moments later, as the fishermen waved frantically for assistance, the pilot opened fire.

"We thought it was an ordinary plane," said Benjamin Washington, 27, still sounding incredulous nearly 24 hours after the incident. "We tried to signal them down."

Paris Jackson, captain of the 67-foot Fort Myers shrimp, Ala, and Washington, its mate, told newsmen Thursday about the attack by Cuban-built MIG fighter planes.

It happened about 5 p.m. Wednesday on the high seas about 60 miles north of Cuba.

A MIG appeared, passed by, circled a nearby island and returned. "We thought he was landing. Then he made one spray."

The "spray," the shrimpers said, appeared to them to be a burst of machinegun fire. The Defense Department said rockets were used. The Cu-

Slow Warming Trend Begins

By The Associated Press

Southwest winds carried a bit of relief into Illinois Friday.

But moderation began only after temperatures had descended to -9 in Rockford, -8 in Peoria, -7 in Springfield, -6 in Moline, -3 in Quincy and -2 in Belleville.

Weather that will be not so cold was forecast for the state, with lows early Saturday of zero to 8 above in the north and 5 to 15 above in the south.

Chicago marked down a low of -7 and thus recorded its twenty-third day of subzero readings this winter.

More Lee Co. Students Attend SIU

CARBONDALE — Total student enrollment from Lee County at Southern Illinois University has more than doubled in a two-year period.

Registrar Robert A. McGrath said today the fall quarter registration of Lee County students was 16. There were 7 from the county enrolled during 1960.

Over-all, SIU's enrollment has increased by 10,000 in six years. Southern's student body totaled 16,243, with 11,619 on the Carbondale campus, when registration for the fall, 1962, term was completed.

Invite News Media To Unprecedented News Policy Confab

WASHINGTON (P) — The White House is inviting representatives of all news-gathering media to an unprecedented April conference that could turn into a donnybrook over the Kennedy administration's public information policies.

The session will be held at a private retreat near Warrenton, Va., April 5-6, it was learned today. Arrangements are being made by Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary.

Informed sources said the conference was prompted in part by the fact that several associations representing news media have adopted formal resolutions criticizing federal information practices.

This does not mean, however, that the meeting will be a one-way affair — with newsmen leveling all of the criticism.

There is reason to believe the administration hopes not only to rebut the anticipated criticism but to let WASHINGTON (P) — President Kennedy has laid down an unmistakable warning that U.S. firepower will blast any Cuban-based warships or planes that dare attack American vessels or aircraft.

But Kennedy indicated Thursday that, for the time being at least, American jet fighters and Navy craft will be restrained from chasing attackers back to Cuba to punish them.

If Wednesday's MIG strafing of a wallowing shrimp boat develops into a pattern of attacks, the President may then give the signal for "hot pursuit."

Several hours after Kennedy uttered the warning at a news conference, the Cuban government "rejected and denied categorically" the charge that its jets poured rocket fire near the disabled shrimp boat Ala in the Florida Straits Wednesday afternoon.

And Prime Minister Fidel Castro was expected to have something to say about it in a televised address tonight.

Once before, when a U2 was shot down at the peak of the Cuban crisis last fall, a stern U.S. warning apparently deterred any more anti-aircraft missile firings on U.S. reconnaissance planes operating over Cuba.

Congressional critics were not stilled by Kennedy's orders that "all necessary action" be taken by the military forces to prevent any more attacks like the strafing of the helpless shrimp boat.

Several suggested the incident discredited the administration's contention that the Soviet-built MIGs are in Cuba for defensive, rather than offensive operations against the United States. Kennedy said he saw no reason to change his view.

Kennedy said he had instructed the Pentagon to make "any necessary revisions in standing orders so as to insure that action will be taken against any vessel or aircraft" which strikes at an American ship or plane (See KENNEDY ... Page 4)

Flu Cases Continue To Increase

By The Associated Press

Influenza cases in the United States continue to increase and medical authorities are urging vaccinations to combat the spreading outbreaks.

The Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service said today information compiled weekly from its 108 reporting cities across the nation show 759 pneumonia-influenza deaths through the week ending Feb. 16. That is 54 deaths over the previous week.

The death toll is showing a continued marked increase in the South and Middle Atlantic states, the center said. The flu outbreaks reached epidemic proportions in areas along the Atlantic seaboard Jan. 15, and then moved westward.

States reporting flu outbreaks for the first time during the week which ended Feb. 16 were Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana, Tennessee, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Michigan and New Jersey, the center said.

Asian flu has been confirmed in Maryland, Michigan, Kansas, North Carolina, New York, Illinois, Massachusetts, Ohio and the District of Columbia.

A spokesman for the center said there is no cure as such for Asian flu, only treatment. The health agency is urging prevention through vaccination.

No figures are available for comparing the current epidemic with that of 1957, when Asian flu first hit this nation. But the spokesman said the death toll is not expected to approach the 1957 total because some immunity now has been built up.

Shocks Level 4/5 Of Town

BENGHAZI, Libya (P) — A series of three shattering earthquakes left more than four-fifths of the coastal town of Al Marj in ruins today and hundreds were believed dead or injured.

Radio Libya put casualties at 250 dead and 100 injured. A U.S. Air Force spokesman said unconfirmed reports indicated 500 were killed and 1,000 injured. The Air Force sent 11 air transports loaded with relief supplies from its base near Tripoli.

Most of the casualties apparently came in the first shock Thursday afternoon. Two more quakes struck this morning as rescue work was in full swing.

Hospitals Filled Hospitals in Al Marj Barce and Benghazi, 55 miles to the southwest, were filled with the injured.

Rescue workers dug through the debris for others feared trapped or killed. U.S. and British military forces and Libyan soldiers and police (See SHOCKS ... Page 4)

Action on Health Care Plan Slow

WASHINGTON (P) — Congress won't decide on President Kennedy's health care program before next year, key supporters and opponents agreed today.

The President is hopeful of quicker action on his renewed plea to provide care for the aged through an increase in Social Security taxes. At his news conference Thursday he said, "I think we might get the bill by this year."

But clearly aware of the long road ahead Kennedy also remarked that the measure "has the problem of coming out of the Ways and Means Committee."

This committee is just getting into stride in its work on a more complex and higher-priority Kennedy program — the tax reduction and revision bill. Public hearings on this measure are expected to run through next month and committee consideration through May.

There is no prospect whatever, reliable sources said, that the committee will take up the health bill before the House acts on the tax measure, perhaps in June. And if the Senate passes the tax bill and a conference to adjust differences is necessary, this would mean further interruption in the progress of health legislation.

Even Rep. Cecil R. King, D-Calif., chief House sponsor of the measure to provide hospital benefits for some 18 million aged persons, stopped short of predicting final action this year.

King said he hopes the Ways and Means Committee and the House will act favorably this year. This would leave the struggle in the Senate still to come.

In the Senate, there is no disposition to try again last year's maneuver of forcing a Senate vote first by tackling the health measure onto some other tax legislation. Last year's attempt resulted in a close defeat for the administration.

Supporters have never been able to muster a majority of the Ways and Means Committee for any version of a Social Security health program. Some say the chances of a reversal grow better with time—especially as the 1964 presidential and congressional election approaches.

Pork Industry Changing, Lee Farmers Are Told at Swift's

THIS IS A MEAT-TYPE ANIMAL—Bill Hayes, head hog buyer for Swift and Co., Rochelle, Thursday explains to 50 Lee County farmers the merits to look for in determining if a hog will meet consumer tastes. The day-long session was an attempt to examine the demands of the rapidly changing pork industry. (Telegraph Photo)

ROCHELLE — Fifty Lee County farmers and businessmen associated with agriculture Thursday toured the Swift and Co. Rochelle meat-packing plant, and heard Swift officials explain why it pays to produce meat-type hogs.

The Lee County pork producers heard William (Bill) Hayes, Swift head hog buyer, say, "We are now at the crossroads of the swine industry."

Hayes went on to explain that pork producers had not kept up with changing consumer demands and tastes and emphasized that farmers were going to have to produce a "better product."

Hayes was referring to the increased consumer demand for a less-fat, more-lean meat hog, commonly known as the "meat-type" animal.

Explains Hayes explained that the pork industry in 1951 was receiving 37 dollars for 72 pounds of pork each year from each consumer. In 1961, he said, this figure had dropped to

Click of Rosary Beads Replaces Clack of Dice

By STEVE VAN CLEVE

WEST BADEN, Ind. (AP)—The click of rosary beads has replaced the clack of dice at the hostelry which once made West Baden a mecca for thousands.

The plush little world of the West Baden Springs Hotel began to crumble Oct. 29, 1929. News of the stock market crash sent its rich, dice-tossing clientele scurrying for home.

Patrons of the 708-room hotel—built around a domed Pompeian court—ranged from the idle rich to "Scarface Al" Capone, who drove over the brick streets through the grounds in his armored car.

The circular brick building, its dome rearing 130 feet amid the southern Indiana hills, still stands. But the roulette wheels and dice tables are gone, and the mineral springs which attracted thousands are plugged.

No women are allowed where diamond and fur-draped society matrons once strolled the circular halls.

Those who stroll those hall now are black-clad men—many reading or meditating.

The yellow brick building houses West Baden College, the school of philosophy and theology for Jesuits of the Chicago and Detroit provinces studying for the Roman Catholic priesthood.

Nearly 300 prospective priests spend seven of their 15 years of study after high school here.

The hotel was the dream of Lee W. Sinclair, who decreed it should be circular and support the world's widest dome. He saw that dream come true on June 14, 1902, when the first customers registered.

The dome, which remained the largest in the world for 40 years, contains 120 tons of steel. The building contains 237,720 square feet of floor space on its six floors.

In 1902, that cost Sinclair $414,000. Sinclair died in 1916 and his heirs sold the resort to Charles Edward Ballard, a West Baden man who had owned two other large hotels and the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus.

Under Ballard's management, the hotel attracted more conventions and used gambling more extensively as a come-on.

Ballard closed the hotel in July, 1932, and began looking for a buyer. He dropped the price to $350,000—one-tenth the assessed valuation—with no luck.

On Feb. 7, 1934, Ballard met with the Rev. Hugo O. Slotemeyer, a Jesuit and president of Xavier University, and donated the building and furnishings to the society.

BARE-HANDED CATCH

THREE BRIDGES, N.J. (AP)—Bobby Vander Wiele was the proud possessor of the biggest fish he ever saw — and he caught it with his own hands.

The fish, a 46-inch striped bass, was struggling feebly in the little nameless brook that runs through the family's farm. Bobby, 11, just waded in and heaved it up in his arms.

How such a large bass ever got into a little creek was a mystery.

Bobby said it didn't matter to him where his catch came from—he was having it mounted.

Proxmire To Address PMA Meeting

U.S. Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin will address the 38th annual meeting of Pure Milk Assn. in Chicago, Saturday, March 23, it was announced today by A. L. McWilliams, PMA general manager.

Sen. Proxmire, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, will discuss national dairy legislation. He will give details of the bill he introduced in the Senate today to make the Dairymen's Class I Base Plan available to farmers who deliver milk to the nation's Federal order markets, McWilliams said.

The Dairymen's Class I Base Plan is designed to fit production to market requirements, improve producer income, and reduce dairy price supports, according to McWilliams.

The meeting will get under way at 9:45 a.m. at the Conrad Hilton Hotel with Avery A. Vose, PMA president, presiding.

Sen. Proxmire will deliver his address during the morning session. Association reports will also be heard before noon. A noon luncheon, scheduled for members and guests, will be followed by an afternoon business session starting at 1:30 p.m.

Incident ...

ban government denied there was an attack of any kind.

Three more jets appeared and one of them joined in the firing, said the crewmen. The shots went into the water about 200 yards from the Ala's port bow, they reported.

Both men said they were certain there were no rockets.

The two stayed on deck while the MIGs circled for 15 minutes, passing low enough for the men to see the pilots' faces and to spot an emblem which "looked like a big round thing with an eagle in it."

Were they scared?

"Yes, sir,"

Jackson said he still hadn't recovered from the fright.

The boat's engine failed Sunday.

That made its radio and pumps useless and all the two crewmen could do was wait for help.

Jackson and Washington, weary from three days of bailing their leaky boat and the strain of their experience, were brought in by the Coast Guard.

Lowell Wilson Named to Post

Lowell Wilson, Dixon contractor, will be seated as a member of the Lee County Housing Authority at their Tuesday meeting, according to C. Lyle Ballard, chairman of the authority. Wilson will replace Frank Sproul who died late in 1962.

Ballard also said final papers have been signed and full payment made for the land in Amboy on which the new 10 unit housing project for the elderly will be built. Federal funds have been received to finance the project.

John McLane, Dixon architect, has been engaged to draw plans for a suitable structure. Construction is due to begin early in the spring, according to Ballard.

YMCA News

Officials of the Dixon YMCA are facing a dilemma. What size bus should they use for the trip to the Automobile Show in Chicago, Saturday.

By Thursday only nine reservations have been received. A Greenbriar bus could carry 10 adults and two children. In order to go by deluxe charter bus there must be 25 reservations. A school bus could be used if 20 people would attend.

The YMCA office staff would like an answer from the public concerning this vexing question. Does anybody else want to go to the Automobile Show with us, or shall we take off in the Greenbriar?

George Bishop, chairman of the YMCA maintenance committee, presented a new bounce (carom) pool table and accessories to the Dixon YMCA, Thursday afternoon. A gift from the Dixon YMCA board of directors.

A new ping pong table for the YMCA activity room has also been ordered and should be delivered in the near future.

Members of the Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y Clubs will view the film "The Earth is the Lord's," Monday night at 7 p.m. at the YMCA. This film is made possible through the Farm Bureau and the soil conservation office at Amboy. Arrangements for the use of the film were made by Wilmer Gerdes, Carlton Gussie and Jim Somers. Persons interested in viewing this film are cordially invited to be the guests of the club members.

Pork ...

33 consumer dollars for 64 pounds of pork.

Increased purchasing of beef and poultry products was the reason behind this change, Hayes said, along with the fact that pork producers have been reluctant to change to a more lean-meat type animal.

Hayes forecast that pork producers have been slow to mend the situation but are now making inroads toward solving the problem.

"One-third of the hog producers today won't be in business five years from now," stated Hayes, explaining that increased competition would force the inefficient producer out of the pork industry.

Hayes went on to explain what producers would have to do in order to keep their segment of the present meat market.

"You are fighting an image problem," Hayes told the farmers. "And to combat this you need a quality product to offer the consumer," he said. Hayes defined the image problem as that of all pork being "fat."

The Swift buyer then noted that several years ago, the pork industry only had three to five per cent of the quality-type hogs that were needed to remedy the situation. You now have between 30 and 35 per cent of the right kind of animals, Hayes related, pointing out that it is now up to the producer to make use of these animals to improve the quality of pork.

During the day, the farmers saw a graphic illustration of the differences in the two types of modern day hogs — fat and lean.

The group early in the day judged five animals, estimating each for weight, percentage of lean cuts each would yield, and back-fat thickness.

Later in the day the farmers saw the butchered carcasses and could visually determine which were the meat-type animals which are in demand by today's consumer.

During the day-long session, Dallas Miller, plant manager, told the group the role the packing plant played in the pork industry and said, "We are trying to do something to help the producer," referring to Swift's Live Merit buying system, where hogs sold to the Rochelle plant are bought on the basis of weight and the percentage of lean-cuts of meat the animals will produce.

Miller typified the Rochelle plant as a "modern, economical unit which will make more for us, and in turn, the producer."

During the afternoon session of the meeting, the farmers toured the Swift facility and saw the various operations of the plant in full production. The informative session for Lee County pork producers was arranged by the Lee County Extension Council in cooperation with Swifts.

NIU Students Approve Grid Stadium

DEKALB — Northern Illinois University students Wednesday voiced overwhelming approval to a proposed $1,750,000 football stadium seating 15,000 persons.

The yes vote, by a better than 2 to 1 majority, in effect means the bond activity fee paid by students would be increased $8.50 a semester to pay interest and principal on the bonds which would be sold to finance stadium construction. Of the total of 2,822 votes cast, 1,972 students voted "yes."

Z. Harold Dorland, director of business services, said today that architects for the project may be asked to proceed with preliminary plans which would be submitted to the Teachers College Board for approval.

A bill will also be prepared, he said, requesting a $350,000 appropriation from the General Assembly to build physical education facilities under the stadium. It has been estimated that the physical education facilities would cost up to 1.5 million if built separately.

The legislature is expected to act on the proposal by early summer, Dorland said. If the go-ahead is given, bids could be advertised and the project could get underway by September.

The stadium would be built on the west side of the field which is now being developed on NIU's West campus. Present plans call for 74 rows of seats for 15,000 spectators and press box facilities. A matching set of seats could be built at a later date on the opposite side, and the stadium is planned so that the oval eventually could be completed by adding stands on the north and south ends.

Physical education facilities under the stadium would include three basketball floors, four handball courts, locker rooms, classrooms and offices.

over Caribbean international waters. He didn't elaborate, and defense officials refused to discuss either the standing orders or the changes.

But competent sources said it was quite clear the President is broadening the present rules under which U.S. fighter planes and Navy vessels are empowered to open fire on approaching aircraft or warships if they appear bent on attacking U.S. territory.

Furthermore, these sources said, the President's orders probably will result in placing more fast jets on strip alert, ready to take off.

Navy and Marine Phantom jets are poised at all times at the Key West Naval Air Station, 90 miles across the Florida Straits from Cuba's north coast. At Homestead Air Force Base south of Miami, Air Force F104 jets also are on alert.

The Navy operates combat air patrols in the sensitive area between the Florida Keys and Cuba. Jet fighters fly with weapons cocked. There now may be more such patrols. Powerful radar scans the Cuban coast constantly.

Asked at his news conference if an assault similar to the one on the shrimp boat might have been responsible for the disappearance earlier this month of the U.S. tanker Sulphur Queen, Kennedy said he had no information indicating this.

The Sulphur Queen disappeared with 39 crewmen aboard.

Enrollment Increases At Northern

DEKALB—Northern Illinois University's second semester enrollment totals 8,501, an increase of 1,002 students or 13.4 per cent over second semester a year ago, Dr. George S. Pritchard, registrar, announced today.

Registration for the second semester was down from the autumn enrollment by 636 but this drop follows the national trend between fall and spring semesters.

The 13.4 per cent increase over spring semester last year is greater than the 12.6 per cent rise recorded last September over September 1961.

Pritchard had predicted a second semester enrollment total of 8,500, only 1 student off from the actual count. "I'm sorry I missed," he said with a big chuckle.

His breakdown shows 3,213 male and 3,523 female undergraduates for an undergraduate total of 6,736. Graduate students number 1,765, representing 1,359 men and 406 women.

Extension classes are not counted in the total. Pritchard said extension totals are still incomplete with 135 undergraduate and 565 graduate students in the off-campus classes counted so far.

Northern's spring semester classes started February 6 for regular students.

"Y" Campaign For Members Termed Success

The Dixon YMCA membership campaign has been called a success. Jack Shadrach, general secretary, reports that $2,150 in memberships was collected as compared to $1,983 for last year.

The secretary pointed out, however, that the number of membership applications turned in dropped from 22 last year to 172 for the current drive.

Shadrach said there are still some membership workers who have not reported and the above figures could change.

The individual who turned in the largest total was B. J. Frazer, with $235 for 19 memberships. The team of workers which rated highest with a total of $485 for 35 memberships was captained by William Reigle.

Shocks ...

lice rushed food and tents to survivors.

The quakes centered in an area of 20 square miles in and around Al Marj, which has a population of 50,000.

The first shock struck at sundown Thursday as most persons were sitting down to their evening meals. People fled into the streets. Buildings and houses toppled, trapping many in the ruins.

Second Shock

A second shock came at 7:30 a.m. as relief workers toiled in the ruins. The third came an hour and a half later.

British troops took charge of rescue operations after an appeal for help from local Libyan authorities. British aid was flown from the Benghazi area and from Cyprus.

A British-American control center was established in Al Marj. U.S. relief supplies were flown in from the Air Force's Wheelus base near Tripoli, 300 miles west of the quake area.

The Libyan government declared an emergency throughout the country.

It was North Africa's worst earthquake since the March 1960 quake which killed an estimated 12,000 in Agadir, Morocco.

Deadlines for Extension Classes Are Extended

DEKALB — Registration for two Northern Illinois University extension classes being offered in Dixon have been extended beyond their deadlines.

The classes which meet at Dixon State School will accept registrations at the second meeting. Physical Geography Monday, and History of Western Civilization Wednesday. Both classes meet at 6:15 p.m. and both carry three semester hours of undergraduate credit.

MISS FLORENCE COOK

Club Program Is Given by Mrs. Gross

Anecdotes recorded by historians who have studied the life of Abraham Lincoln, highlighted a program on "Lincoln Humor" given by Mrs. Kenneth Gross for Practical Club members when they were recent guests of Mrs. F. F. Densmore.

Mrs. Gross used "The Lincoln Reader" by Paul M. Angel as the source for much of her program material, and stated that scholars find it difficult to attribute Lincoln's greatness to his ancestral background. Many credit his step-mother, Sally Bush Lincoln, as the first to recognize and stimulate his qualities of justice, kindness and humility.

Tracing his life from his birth in Kentucky, Mrs. Gross used anecdotes and seldom publicized events to illustrate his development into one of America's greatest men. Many of her stories were concerned with Lincoln's marriage to Mary Todd Lincoln, which historians describe as "turbulent." Mrs. Lincoln, although often criticized, did what she felt was best for her husband's career, and Lincoln staunchly defended her when she was accused of being a Southern spy and sympathizer.

In concluding her program, Mrs. Gross compared the lives of Lincoln and Will Rogers, the famous humorist. Both rose from humble parentage to become prominent citizens, and both possessed subtle humor backed by abundant wisdom.

Mrs. A. E. Marth recited Lincoln's Gettysburg Address following the program, and unusual current events were reviewed by Mrs. Clark Rickard.

Mrs. Densmore served a dessert luncheon preceding the program, and during a business meeting led by Mrs. Dawson Womeldorff, president, a note from Mrs. Hattie Randall was read expressing her appreciation for a gift received from the club on her recent 90th birthday. February birthdays of club members were observed, and plans for a 1 p.m. luncheon Tuesday in Lincoln Manor were announced by Mrs. Marth.

LCW Workshop Is Monday Night

An LCW March Workshop is planned for 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Fireside Room of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and will be conducted by Mrs. Harold French.

In 1946 he assisted in the organization of the Oklahoma Gem and Mineral Club of Oklahoma City, and when he returned to appear on a club program in 1956, he discovered the organization had grown from 17 original members to a membership of 200.

His career as a lecturer has included programs for amateur and professional geology students in Fort Madison, Iowa; York, Pa.; Oswego, N. Y., and a number of Canadian cities. He presented a special program in 1948 for the Small Mine Owners and Operators Association of Superior, Ariz., and has appeared before the Chicago Rocks and Minerals Club. In January he spoke for members of the Rock River Valley Gem and Mineral Club, Rockford, and he is scheduled to give a program next week for the Starved Rock "Rock-Hounds," an organization he serves as chairman of the board of directors.

His program for the Garden Department meeting will include the story behind the discovery of Boyerite, a mineral he describes as "fascinating." His Monday appearance has been arranged by Mrs. Edward Fisher and Mrs. Jess Wirth, program committee co-chairmen, and hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Frank Perry, Mrs. William Rose, Mrs. Noah Beard, Mrs. Jo Van Meter, Mrs. Arthur Clayton, Mrs. Joy Atkinson, Miss Mary Ransom and Mrs. J. # Strange Switch in Rules

"While Air Force personnel maintained 24-hour alert deep within their underground ICBM complexes, Army infantrymen streaked through the skies to carry out a surprise strike against enemy forces. . . ."

This anomalous situation has never taken place. It is not, however, a crazy episode out of some latter-day Alice in Wonderland. It could, in theory, happen during some crisis only a few years from now, or sooner.

One of the paradoxes of this age of missiles and "brush fire" wars is that at least a part of the Air Force, which controls our inter-continental missiles, has been forced to dig in at missile sites and that a part of the Army is considering going completely airborne.

Largely as a result of lessons learned in the hop, skip and jump war in South Viet Nam, the Army wants to experiment with a new, airmobile unit called the air assault division. Defense Secretary McNamara, who calls it "revolutionary," has asked Congress for an additional 15,000 men this year to test the idea. He wants a tripling of Army aircraft purchases, mostly helicopters.

The basic function of the services will not be changed, of course. The Air Force will still handle the major airlifting and long-range flying jobs; the Army, despite the air assault divisions and "air cavalry brigades," will still do its fighting in the mud. The hit-and-run airborne soldiers will be commando-type specialists, designed to operate in limited-war situations, not all-out war.

Hopefully, it is the continued refining of limited-war capabilities which will keep the world out of general war—until it learns to disarm completely.

WHAT SIZE IS 2x4?

As every do-it-yourselfer knows, a 2 x 4 piece of lumber is not two inches thick and four inches wide. That is the rough-cut size and was the stuff grandpa used to work with. Today, lumber is trimmed and a "2 x 4" is actually only 1½ inches by 3½ inches.

What many do-it-yourselfers may not know, however, is that some 2 x 4s are not even this trimmed dimension. If cut green, they may have shrunk to an even smaller size.

The Lumber Standards Committee, which is appointed by the Department of Commerce to establish and maintain standards of lumber size and quality, is going to do something about it—at least, a sub-committee has been appointed to study the problem.

The committee is also studying lumber sizes from the standpoint of strength and stiffness with an eye toward using smaller sizes for a given job than are specified today.

The likely result is a new lumber size standard that will be based on moisture content and strength requirements. It would mean, says the committee, a better product at a better price for the consumer.

Chances are, too, that the familiar 2 x 4, whatever its actual size might be, would still be part of our terminology.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm enraged with that secretary who was ready to flip because her "bright, attractive, well-educated" boss closed his business conversations on the telephone with "bye bye."

It's sickening the way secretaries move in on a man's life and take him over.

She starts by reminding Mr. Worthington of his luncheon appointment. Then she reminds Mr. Worthington of his barbershop appointment. Next she tactfully suggests that he buy Mrs. Worthington something special for her birthday. (He had forgotten, so of course he's grateful.)

The next thing you know she goes along with him to select the wife's gift. After shopping they stop for a few martinis. Suddenly, Mr. Worthington becomes "Hal."

The rest is easy. Hal can't seem to get his work done during office hours — so he must work evenings. The night work doesn't sit very well at home and his wife begins to complain. This, of course, makes her a nag. So after 20 years and three kids, Mr. Worthington decides his wife doesn't understand him. They have nothing in common. She is a bore.

Don't tell me my imagination has run wild, Miss Landers, because it just happened to me.—MRS. WORTHINGTON

Dear Mrs. Worthington (which as everybody knows is a made up name): The secretary has an inside track but so does the nurse or the dental assistant — any female whose activities bring her into close contact with a male.

Familiarity does not always breed contempt. Sometimes it breeds other things. I've said it before and I'll say it again — no man ever listened to the siren's call unless he was ready to hear it.

Dear Ann Landers: You were right when you told "Irate Reader" that floors were made to walk on and she should not ask guests to remove their shoes even though the spike heels were ruining her vinyl entrance-way. This is what the floor covering industry has to say: "Spike heels are causing the biggest headache in years. They not only leave noticeable indentations in hard-surface floors, they also cut the pile and puncture the backings of carpets." What can be done? NOTHING. We can only hope for fickle fashion to dictate a change.

The woman who is considering a new floor should be told that there is no way to protect that floor against spike heels. Even asphalt and hardwood floors can be damaged.

A 112-pound girl wearing stiletto heels exerts static pressure of 4,000 pounds per square inch every time she takes a step. A 224-pound man wearing the conventional shoe exerts 28 pounds per square inch.

So please urge women to demand saner heels, Ann. — A.P.

Dear A.P.: I'm torn, my friend. I like the stiletto heels and I also like vinyl floors. Incidentally, I have both and they seem fairly compatible.

Dear Ann: Help! I have a chance to attend the Baptist Youth Conference next July in Palestine. I went to the Toronto Conference in 1958 and it was the most inspiring experience of my life. But my husband says he will divorce me if I go.

I would be attending as a representative of my parents' evangelistic organization and they would pay my expenses. Glenn and my parents do not get along. He says this trip offer is an effort on their part to cause trouble between us.

Please, Ann, tell me what to do? —REBA

Dear Reba: It would be nice if somehow you could get Glenn's blessing, because if you can't I say don't go.

He resents your parents' part in this, and he may have a valid point. Either persuade him or stay home and save your marriage.

Price of Sugar Going Up, Thanks to Castro

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The price of sugar here is going up, thanks to Fidel Castro and bad weather in Europe.

In recent years the price has gone up or down as the U.S. government thought best for domestic producers or for its international policies. Now, for the first time in years, controlling influences have slipped overseas.

Castro's Cuba isn't sending up any more because we won't accept it, for obvious reasons. But since it lost its big U.S. market, Cuba has been a leading supplier to the rest of the world. At first, the world price was way down, well below that maintained here by government rulings.

Under Castro, Cuban production has fallen off so badly, with what there is largely pledged to the Communist bloc, that the world supplies are pinched.

Bad weather in Europe hurt the sugar beet crop there. World production already was slipping below consumption, which has been on the rise. So the price of sugar has been going up in world markets. At first this was reflected on the futures markets, where traders forecast the trend by bidding up the price for later delivery.

Now actual deliveries are being crippled and prices of raw sugar are rising. The refined product that the housewife buys will be going up, too, at least in parts of the country.

Raw sugar from Brazil recently sold in New York for $6.90 per 100 pounds, highest price since 1924. So leading Eastern refiners of cane sugar have raised prices 15 cents a 100 pounds to $10.20. Some of this is likely to be passed on to the consumer when the grocer adjusts his prices on the small packages.

The problem is that world sugar prices have risen above domestic. For years the price here has been at a premium over the world price.

This was due to the sugar quota system, started in 1934 and extended from time to time since then. In all except the war years, world supplies exceeded demand. The trade had come to take that as normal.

The United States was the prime market. The quota system permits the secretary of agriculture to set a quota on the amount of sugar that can be imported. He changes this from time to time, lowering the total if the price is shaky, raising it if demand increases and starts pushing prices up.

The aim has been two-fold. One was to protect the cane and sugar beet growers in this country by assuring them a certain level of sales. The other was to divide among the other producing nations the amount of the rich American market it was deemed they should have.

Now with Cuban production in a slump, and other producing areas unable to satisfy all of the world's increasing demand, the world price has risen. So the New York refiner who wanted some of Brazil's sugar had to compete with a world price, quota or no.

Committee Studies TV In Education

DEKALB — David Crawford, superintendent of Rochelle elementary schools, was among those named to the steering committee to form a Northern Illinois Educational Television Committee which will support a state educational television network. The educational television bill is now pending before the Illinois Legislature.

A speaker at the DeKalb meeting said one purpose of such organizations would be "grass roots" support for a $6½ million bill to finance a state television network.

The Central Illinois Instructional Television Assn. is presently engaged in coordinating educational television work of 65 member schools.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for NEA

Q—Does palpitation of the heart cause heart trouble. Also, would getting punched on the heart damage the heart?

A—Palpitation, pounding of the heart, may be due to excitement, violent exercise, or an abnormally acute awareness of the heart. It does not cause heart trouble and is not a sign of any serious heart disease.

Boxers and football players sometimes get a heavy blow over the region of the heart. The heart is so well protected by the ribs that it would be practically impossible for this to cause structural damage to the heart. It may, however, cause the heart to stop. In some extreme instances external massage of the heart (deep-rhythmic pressure on the chest) has been necessary to start the heart beating again.

Q—Our 5-year-old has ringworm of the scalp. I am nearly frantic, trying to protect other members of the family. Any suggestions?

A—The most effective treatment for ringworm of the scalp is the new antibiotic, griseofulvin, which is taken by mouth.

In using this or any other form of treatment for this condition, it is helpful to shave the scalp at least once a week and apply a fungicidal ointment. In addition, your child should wear a stocking cap throughout the day. There should be no communal use of hairbrushes, combs or face towels, and no jolly changing of hats or caps with other children.

Q—I have been told that I have viscerotoposis, or "fallen stomach." My doctor says that wearing a special uplift girdle and gaining some weight would help, as I am quite thin. What do you think?

A—It is true that on X-ray films some persons' stomachs are lower in the abdomen than those of others. This is especially common in very thin persons, but it is not a disease or even an abnormality. For this reason doctors rarely mention it any more. Whatever the symptoms that led you to have an X-ray of your stomach in the first place, they were in no way related to the fact that your stomach "rides low." Furthermore, I dislike the term "fallen stomach" because the condition has undoubtedly been present since birth.

Q—I get fever blisters pretty often. What is the best treatment?

A—Fever blisters are caused by a virus that is closely related to the virus that causes chicken pox and small pox. Vaccination with smallpox vaccine once a week for about six weeks has been very helpful in some persons. It is worth a try.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

25 YEARS AGO

Principal B. J. Frazer of Dixon high school was singularly honored and happily surprised by the mailman Monday when he was presented with a package which proved to be a large-sized autographed photo of Ronald "Dutch" Reagan, sent personally by "Dutch" from Hollywood. The inscription in "Dutch's" own handwriting read: "To my first and best director with sincere appreciation," signed, Ronald Reagan.

Reagan was a member of Mr. Frazer's dramatics class in North Dixon high school in 1927 and 1928 and took leading roles in several outstanding class and dramatic club plays. Playing opposite Margaret Cleaver in "The Pipe of Peace," Reagan gave an especially brilliant performance for a high school youth and the cast was called upon again and again to repeat the production before several women's organizations in Dixon and Lee County.

40 YEARS AGO

A one round bout was staged on First street in the business section yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock which attracted the attention of quite a few citizens, who chanced to be passing about that hour. A clerk in one of the stores clashed with a shoe factory employee and a short argument soon resolved itself into a fight. The clerk is said to have slipped and fallen striking his head against the curbing sustaining a flesh wound.

Isaac Trask of Ashton has returned from a business trip in Minnesota where he was buying horses.

J. B. Ortgiesen left for Los Angeles, Calif., today where he will join his wife who went to California two months ago and is visiting her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Will Baker. They will return late in the spring.

ARTIST'S CONCEPTION OF CONTROVERSIAL BOMBER — This is an artist's conception of the Air Force's RS70 bomber, whose builders say should fly late next month or in April, months past its original flight date. When — or if — it flies, the huge 2,000-mile-an-hour craft is expected to bring up again the controversy ignited when the administration decided the RS70 has already been outmoded by missiles. ## RS70 Bomber Nears Date For First Trial Flight

By RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The technical problem that has kept the RS70 bomber grounded months past its original flight date has been solved, its builders say, and the weird-looking monster should fly late next month or in April.

When—or if—it flies, the huge craft's 2,000-mile an hour wind-stream is expected to fan to new fury the flames of controversy ignited when the administration decided the RS70 has been outmoded by missiles.

The problem that delayed the RS70's first flight, scheduled for last December, was a fuel tank leak that showed up in tests simulating the stresses of flying more than three times the speed of sound.

Such acceleration would throw the jet fuel against the rear of the tanks with a pressure several times greater than that experienced in conventional aircraft.

In conventional jet aircraft a slight leak probably would not be dangerous. The fuel — a highly refined kerosene—would evaporate before it became a problem.

In the RS70 the slightest leak could mean disaster.

The buffeting of air molecules at high speed is expected to heat some areas of its skin to 600 degrees Fahrenheit. If its jet fuel, or even fumes, came in contact with these super-heated areas fire or explosion could result.

"We have solved the problem — found the right materials for the sealant," said a spokesman for North American Aviation, Inc.

"The actual repair work is being done right now. When you see the RS70 roll out of its hangar in the next few weeks you will know the leak has been whipped."

Even when it has been brought up to design specifications, made capable of carrying 50 megatons of nuclear destruction to any point on the globe at twice the speed of today's fastest U.S. bomber, the RS70 faces a gloomy future.

Defense planners say the RS70 is obsolete, that its job can be done better and more cheaply by missiles, and that the real need is for an advanced craft that can fly both in the air and in space.

Supporters Say
Supporters of the RS70 insist that it would be useful for at least another 10 years and that failure to put it into production will leave the United States lagging behind the Soviet Union in a vitally needed type of aircraft.

Because of this controversy there may be no public ceremony when the RS70 sticks its pointed nose out of its hangar at Palmdale, Calif.

For more than a year 1,000 engineers and technicians have been hand-crafting three RS70s in a huge hangar 70 miles north of here on the Mojave Desert. Only one is close to completion. When it rolls out for pre-flight tests of its six 30,000-pound thrust engines, it will be visible from a major highway.

The first flight will be no secret.

USDA Sets Restrictive Ground Rules for Proceeds Deductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department set down today restrictive ground rules under which packers, market agencies or shippers may make deductions from proceeds from sale of livestock to promote red meat consumption.

For many years, terminal markets buyers of cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs have been making small deductions from producer and other owner receipts from sale of these animals to finance promotion work carried on by the National Livestock and Meat Board at Chicago.

Under the practice long in effect, the owner could get the deduction back if he made application for it.

But beginning July 1, no such deductions can be made unless the packer, market agency or shipper gets prior written authorization from the owner.

This new regulation is being issued under provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act directing the department to police livestock and poultry markets against unfair, discriminatory and price-fixing practices.

Meat animal producers have been contributing around $10 million a year to finance research and promotion work by the Livestock and Meat Board, a private organization representing major farm and livestock organizations.

Producers have been contributing at the rate of 2 cents a head for cattle, two thirds of a cent for calves and hogs and 2.5 cents for sheep and lambs.

Ninety-eight per cent of American homes are wired for electricity.

Is the small car going out of the picture?

They're growing the new cars much bigger this season.

And to think that only a year or two ago, it was just the other way around.

For a while there, you could buy a car that you could actually park on the first try. And that didn't need power this and power that to get around the block.

We're going to miss them. And we think a lot of other people will, too.

Because we think there are people who still want to put a sensible amount of money into a sensible amount of car.

So prepare yourself: the 1963 Volkswagen is still exactly the same size.

And it looks exactly the same.

Volkswagen dealers still have parts to fit any VW ever made.

And the people who bought 1962 Volkswagens don't feel as though they're driving last year's model.

Maybe most small cars are going out of the picture. But there's one small exception.

Wrestling Tournament

Three Dukes Compete in Sectional

By HARRY JAMES
PEORIA — Three Dixon High School wrestlers will be seeking additional laurels as the 1963 Illinois Sectional Wrestling Tournament opens today at Peoria Richwoods.

Dixon wrestlers entered in the two-day tournament are Roy Klapprodt, Rich Jessie and Mike Wadsworth. Klapprodt was a second place winner at the Savanna District last weekend in the 112 pound division. Jessie and Wadsworth were both first place finishers at the District.

Wadsworth also the North Central Illinois Conference 165 pound champion gained a first place seeding at the Sectional Tournament. Jessie received a second seeding for the tournament in the 145 pound class while Klapprodt was unseeded.

Wadsworth meets Dick McCarty of Metamora in his opening match tonight. Jessie will wrestle Fred Lowe of Canton in his first match and Klapprodt meets fourth-seeded Virgil Romine of Canton in his first match.

Top team entered in the tournament are Moline, East Moline, Sterling and Savanna.

First and second place finishers in the Sectional will be eligible for the state tournament next weekend.

The Sectional at Peoria will be run in three sessions. The quarter-final rounds will be held tonight beginning at 7 p.m. The semi-finals will be held Saturday morning beginning at 10 a.m. while the finals will start at 2 p.m.

Illinois Entertains Wisconsin

By The Associated Press
Big Ten teams which are apparently out of the running for the basketball title will have a chance for the role of spoilers Saturday as they tangle with the four leaders.

Wisconsin's Badgers (4-5), who handed Illinois its first conference loss earlier 84-77, will be entertained by the Illini in an afternoon regionally televised game.

It will be Illinois' last contest in Huff Gym. After games at Minnesota and Michigan next week, the Illini return home for windups against Northwestern and Iowa in the new Assembly Hall.

Illinois currently is tied with Ohio State for the lead, each with 7-2 records. Minnesota with 7-3 and Indiana, 6-3, are next in the tightening race.

In the only other afternoon engagement, Michigan (4-5) is at Purdue (1-10).

At night, Iowa (5-4) is at Ohio State, Michigan State (3-7) at Indiana and Minnesota at Northwestern (3-6).

After Wisconsin broke Illinois' winning spell, the Illini lost 103-100 at Indiana despite Dave Downey's record 53 points. But they got back on the victory track Monday with an 87-79 success at Purdue.

Illinois also took first place in field goal accuracy with a .464 percentage. They maintained leads in free throw percentage with .754 and scoring average with 90.9.

Minnesota's Gophers, who beat Wisconsin 72-48 Monday, could find Northwestern tough at home. The Wildcats, who tripped Michigan 63-62 this week, have a pair of consistent scorers in Rich Falk, with a 24.1 average, and Rick Loposka with 15.6.

Minnesota, led by Eric Magdanz with an 18.9 average and boasting the conference's No. 1 defensive record, returns home after the Northwestern game to finish the season against Illinois, Indiana and Ohio State.

Carrying Indiana's title hopes is the best one-two punch in scoring in the league—Jimmy Rayl and Tom Bolyard with averages of 26.1 and 24.9, respectively.

Since losing 81-74 at Iowa, Ohio State has compiled a five-game Big Ten winning streak.

The surge into title contention has been headed by Gary Bradds, the conference's top scorer with a 31.3 average. He also is No. 1 in field goal percentage with .554.

Rockford Auburn Rated To Join Tourney Field

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Only an upset will keep Rockford Auburn rampaging Knights from rejoining the select "Sweet Sixteen" state basketball tournament field next month.

The Knights, spoked by their 6-8 all-state candidate, Keith Stelter, have bowled over their last nine opponents in running their season record to 19-2 for third spot in the current Associated Press poll.

Auburn is undefeated in the Big Eight Conference.

Both Auburn defeats came during holiday tournaments—a total of three points. The Knights were upset 59-37 by Herrin in the Centralia tourney, then went on to win the consolation championship. Second loss was 40-39 to Prospect in the finals of the St. Charles meet.

Only other team to come close to beating Auburn was Elgin which dropped a 37-55 decision on the Maroon court in December.

The return of all-Big Eight forward Jasper Robinson also has been a key factor in Auburn's recent successes.

Robinson missed 11 games—including the Herrin, Prospect and Elgin tilts—in mid-season during an eligibility dispute with the Illinois High School Association (IHSA).

Last month a Circuit Court judge overruled the IHSA's ruling on the Negro cager and instructed the state group to declare him eligible for the rest of the season. An appeal has been filed in Appellate Court.

The court ruled that Robinson's 19th birthday was Dec. 24, 1962—thereby making him eligible under IHSA rules.

Robinson is one of seven Auburn players averaging 5 or more points a game. He has scored 126 points in eight games for a 15.7 average.

Stelter, an all-Centralia Tournament selection, is tops in the city scoring race with 240 points. His average is 17.9.

Next is Larry Croft, junior forward, with a 9.9 average.

Coach Dolph Stanley usually starts Croft, Stelter and Bob Fisher, 200-pound senior, in the front line, and Robinson and Dave Hicks, little senior or Rick Venturi, a junior, in the back court.

Jim Jones, junior guard, is the ninth member of the Auburn squad that has started at least one game. Jim Hamberlin, 6-3 junior forward, is a top reserve.

As a team, the Knights are averaging 65.6 points per game while permitting only 44 points by their opponents, a healthy 21-point margin.

The Knights have height, speed and scoring. They can run or press with any team in northern Illinois. They are a sound defensive club.

Last year Auburn was beaten by Rock Island in the super-sectional. This year East Moline looms as the biggest roadblock in the three-year-old Rockford school's path to Champaign.

Celtics Move Toward 7th Straight Title

By The Associated Press

Bill Russell's always a knockout in San Francisco, and so are the Boston Celtics, who relentlessly are moving toward their seventh straight Eastern Division title in the National Basketball Association.

Russell, the 6-foot-10 All-America center of the University of San Francisco's marvelous Dons in the mid-50s, went back to his old hometown Thursday night. This time he was a knockout, both literally and figuratively.

The man with the goatee scored 25 points and grabbed 33 rebounds. He also spent 4 minutes unconscious on the floor after being toppled over on his head after a collision with the San Francisco Warriors' Willie Naulls in the fourth period of Boston's 135-118 victory. Russell finally was revived and was able to stay in the game.

The game was one of three in the NBA Thursday night. The Chicago Zephyrs ended a losing string at eight games, beating the Syracuse Nats 108-91, while Cincinnati turned back New York 115-96.

Early Wynn Reports to Chisox Training Camp

By The Associated Press

Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts announced his itinerary for the baseball season includes hopping into a few night clubs. Early Wynn strolled into the Chicago White Sox camp. Ken Retzer walked out of Washington's.

Tebbetts, new chief in the Indians' teepee, put his foot down right at the start, warning he didn't want any players bellyaching about fatigue caused by night games on cross-country travel.

Revealing his playing day habits, Tebbetts had this to say:

"I was 17 years in the big leagues as a player and I never took a drink. But I went with the gang to the night spots. I knew the hours they kept. If they were fatigued, it was their own fault. Usually it's the player who complains about flying all night who keeps the latest hours when he has a chance to rest."

Tebbetts, disdaining the use of bed checks, said "I'll be popping up here and there in various spots. I'd better not find any of my players."

2 Handicap Races on Tap Saturday

By The Associated Press

The 1963 100-grand season on the American turf continues Saturday with the renewals of two major handicaps—the Santa Anita at Santa Anita Park and the Widener at Hialeah.

Between the two, each at 1 1/4 miles, most of the top older horses will be in action. Crimson Satan, once again in the hard-hitting form that took him to the 1961 2-year-old title, heads a field of 15 in the $145,000-guaranteed Santa Anita race. Kelso, Horse-of-the-Year the last three years, tops a probable field of 10 in the Widener, which carries an added value of $100,000.

Crimson Satan will carry top weight of 125 pounds at Santa Anita. Top contenders include Crozier assigned 122; Decidedly, who last week won his first race since the 1962 Kentucky Derby; Olden Times; Physician, surprise winner of the rich race last year, and The Axe II, winner in last Saturday's San Luis Rey 'Cap.

Decidedly picks up 118 pounds. Physician 120, six more than he packed in the Santa Anita 'Cap in 1962, and Olden Times 121. Sensitivity, Aeroflitt, Aldershot, Mr. Consistency, Bounding Main, Drill Site, Game, Mandate, and Pirate Cove round out the field.

The winner is guaranteed $100,000 with $20,000 to second, $15,000 to third and $10,000 to the fourth horse.

Kelso is a stickout in the Widener field, especially with Ridan not among the starters. Retirement of Ridan to stud was announced Thursday.

The Bohemia Stable's 6-year-old gelding is assigned 131 pounds and gives as much as 21 to his rivals. His only serious contention likely will come from the Hobeau Farm's Beau Purple, a swift runner making his first start of the year, and packing 125 pounds.

Beau Purple, benefitting by a pull in weights, twice whipped Kelso last year.

1962 Champs Top N. Texas State, 91-61

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati's mighty Bearcats, rebounding brilliantly from their first loss of the season, have taken the first step toward an unprecedented third straight NCAA basketball championship.

Cincinnati, national champions the last two seasons and third in the country the two seasons before that, secured the Missouri Valley Conference title and a spot in the NCAA Midwest regional tourney by blasting North Texas State 91-61 Thursday night.

The victory boosted the top-ranked Bearcats' season record to 20-1 and their conference mark to 9-1.

Cincinnati was making its first start since Wichita snapped the Bearcats' 37-game winning string 65-64 in Wichita Saturday.

In other major games, New York University held off Notre Dame 80-79 in a Madison Square Garden match of two NCAA bound teams. Each has accepted an at-large berth in the tourney.

Oklahoma City, another NCAA team, rode over Loyola of New Orleans 99-79 and Wake Forest suffered a 59-53 upset at the hands of Furman at Winston-Salem, N.C.

Connecticut came from 10 points back and edged Manhattan 68-64 in the opener of the doubleheader in New York.

Billy Foster scored 24 points in Drake's 81-65 Missouri Valley Conference decision over Tulsa. The Citadel whipped Arkansas State 71-57 and VMI put on an $5-60 rout of Richmond.

Glass Leads Small College Scorers

NEW YORK (AP)—Earl Glass of Mississippi Industrial College went on a scoring rampage in the last four games of the regular season schedule and remained the individual scoring leader in small college basketball ranks.

The 6-foot senior boasts a 42.9 points-per-game average, according to figures released by the NCAA Service Bureau today. Records include games through Feb. 16.

Glass, a backcourt performer, topped the scorers for the fifth straight week. He pulled away from the pack by collecting 54, 56, 44 and 54 points in his last four outings.

Bob Johnson of Fitchburg, Mass. State finished his schedule with a 38.8 average, placing him in the runner-up spot. Willie Shaw of Lane, Tenn., is third at 36.3.

Dukes Travel to Rock Falls for NCIC Contest

The frosh-soph contest will start at 6:30 p.m. with the varsity contest following at 8 p.m.

Sugar Ray Signs For Boxing Tour

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, former world welterweight and middleweight champion, has signed for a series of boxing bouts in Rome, London and South America. Boxing agent Dewey Fragetta announced Thursday that Robinson, now 42, will fight Terry Downes in London April 30. Downes outpointed Sugar Ray in 10 rounds last September.

Other bouts have been set for March, May and June.

GALESBURG, Ill. (U) — A candidate for alderman has been ordered arrested on a charge of forging signatures on his nominating petition. But authorities said the name of Frank E. Baldwin, 26, cannot be removed from the ballot unless he is convicted of the charge before the April 2 elections.

PONTIAC, Mich. (U) — Howard W. Mordue Jr., a wealthy sportsman with an interest in a Peoria, Ill., pharmacy business, has been charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the shootings of his wife and a Detroit man.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U) — A Moline woman was indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on a charge of impersonating an FBI agent to solicit $600, allegedly to ransom J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI chief. U.S. Atty. Edward Phelps said Mrs. Catherine Marie Fuller, 63, allegedly received the money from Frank Rollins of Rock Island. U.S. Dist. Judge Omer Poos set her bond at $10,000.

ONEIDA, Ill. (U) — J. W. Valbrach, 33, of Blackburn, Mo., has been hired to succeed J. D. McKibben July 1 as superintendent of the ROVA School District.

Valbrach, superintendent at Blackburn, signed the ROVA contract Wednesday night.

McKibben who is retiring, has been district superintendent since it was formed 15 years ago in a northern area of Knox County.

CHICAGO (U) — About 2,500 production and maintenance workers, represented by the Sheet Metal Workers Union, have struck the four Chicago area plants of Hotpoint, a division of General Electric.

Members of Local 571 walked off the job today at one minute past midnight. The strike was authorized Jan. 20 and called Thursday by the union's negotiating committee.

PEORIA, Ill. (U) — The Academy of Our Lady, a Roman Catholic girls' high school, has been closed until Monday because of a high rate of absenteeism.

Sister Thomas Marie, the school principal, said Thursday about 90 of the school's 700 girls were absent.

Dr. Fred Long, county and city health director, said Wednesday Peoria was having an epidemic of respiratory ailments. He said several hundred of the city's 103,000 residents were under doctor's care.

Blue Steel Is Britain's New Stand-Off Punch

LONDON (AP) — In the shadow of controversy over loss of the Skybolt, Britain has quietly put into operation a new missile to boost the deterrent punch of its V-bomber force.

It is called the Blue Steel, and the Royal Air Force claims it is invulnerable, at least for the next two or three years.

Classed as a "stand-off weapon" like the abortive Skybolt, the Blue Steel enables the RAF's bombers to launch a rocket with a nuclear warhead of megaton size (equivalent to a million tons of TNT) while flying 100 to 150 miles from the target.

The British make no secret of the fact that they would have preferred the Skybolt, scrapped by the United States after defense officials calculated that its performance would not be worth its $2.5-billion development cost. The Skybolt was to have a range of about 1,000 miles.

The Blue Steel is really a small, supersonic, pilotless jet plane. But it is smaller, faster and believed to fly higher than the bombers launching it. These advantages should make it that much more difficult for the Soviets to track and hit.

The missile's speed is secret but is generally believed to be 1,100 miles an hour. This increases by a couple of hundred miles at the 10-mile altitude where the Blue Steel would be launched.

The Blue Steel is 35 feet long with a body diameter of 4 feet and wingspan of 13 feet. It is powered by a liquid-fueled engine with 18,000 pounds thrust, suggesting that it may be able to climb even higher than its original launching altitude before it drops on target.

One squadron of Vulcan bombers stationed at Scampton is already equipped with Blue Steel. Two more squadrons are well advanced in training. Eventually the entire V-bomber force, estimated at 150 to 175 planes, is scheduled to get Blue Steel as its main offensive weapon.

Americans wrote 15 billion checks in 1962. Pulpwood required to produce the paper on which the checks were written would make a stack four feet wide, eight feet long and 25 miles high.

CHICAGO (U) — Benjamin S. Adamowski, a Republican candidate for mayor whose handling of a contingency fund while state's attorney is under fire, said Thursday he will make public his 1955-62 income tax returns.

Adamowski told a luncheon meeting he had offered to submit his tax records and work sheets to the four Chicago newspapers for inspection and audit.

The controversy involves spending by Adamowski of $833,983 during his 1956-60 term as Cook County state's attorney. Adamowski was defeated in his re-election bid by Daniel P.
Ward, a Democrat.

Ward set off the dispute in December 1961 when he contended $781,839 in canceled checks issued during Adamowski's administration had disappeared. He said canceled checks for only $52,144 were in the records when he took office.

Adamowski in 1961, and again
Thursday denied any of the money was spent improperly.

Officer R. E. Tayloe then handed Stancil another ticket, this one charging him with being a litterbug.

Judge Charles Whedbee of City Recorder's Court heard the two charges
Thursday. He found Stancil innocent of the reckless driving charge, but fined him $25 for being a litterbug.

GREENVILLE, N.C. (U) — When a patrolman charged Claxton G. Stancil Jr., 26, of Greenville, with reckless driving, Stancil became so angry he tore the ticket to bits and threw it on the ground.
